Kourtney's choice in colour was quite becoming on her.

The reality star looked bright as a jewel in her green mini-dress as she dashed off to One Bar Harbour restaurant in Miami Beach to meet her younger sister Khloe for a bite to eat.

The pretty Kourtney stepped out of her black SUV in front of the posh eatery wearing a somewhat sardonic expression, but then she should be used to the attention her presence incites.

Going green: Kourtney Kardashian stepped out to meet sister Khloe for lunch on Sunday wearing a fetching emerald-hued frock

She paired her dress with neutral heels and her long dark hair was pulled back in a tight ponytail, which flowed down her back like silk.

Kourtney had with her a rather large tan handbag which she seemed to use to shield her thickened waistline.

Although rumours suggest that the eldest Kardashian sibling may be expecting another baby, her third with fiance Scott Disick, Kourtney has remained discreetly quiet on the subject.

Whether her girth is the remnant of her last pregnancy or the beginning of a new one, Kourtney has given no confirmation.

Baby weight? Kourtney gave birth to daughter Penelope in July and was sporting a bit of a tummy as she dashed inside the eatery

Roomy bag: Kourtney's massive tan handbag was almost bigger than she was

She seems to be living in total bliss with the two children she already has with Disick: Mason, 3, and Penelope, four months.

Kourtney, 33, gathered her handbag and secured it over her shoulder as she stepped away from her car and into the eatery where sister Khloe was perhaps already waiting for her.

The mother of two indicated who she was meeting on Sunday when she tweeted, 'A little lunch with @KhloeKardashian!' at 12:34PM.

Sisters: Kourtney tweeted that she was having 'a little lunch' with Khloe on Sunday and that she'd had 'another workout' with Kim on Saturday

The two sisters have always been close but now perhaps more than ever as Khloe is drawn away hosting X Factor and Kourtney is busy shooting the reality show Kim & Kourtney Take Miami.

On Saturday, Kourtney spent the afternoon with Kim running and working up a sweat with a cameraman recording everything.

The sisters were both clad in black leggings, and while Kim concealed nothing with her clingy top Kourtney chose a more modest loose-fitting tank to wear.

Later a satisfied Kourtney tweeted, 'Another workout with @KimKardashian! On a roll baby... '

What is really surprising is the amount of coverage they get from DM. This family does not get this kind of coverage in most US media. They are written about here and in tabloids. So, why does DM continue to obsess with them?- me, miami, 19/11/2012 10:12--
-----DM paid by Kris Jenner's pr company probably per article which explains all these non-stories.

Look, I really do not mind another photo or article about the Kardashian ladies. However, a whole story about a plain green dress and/or a mini dress is just not newsworthy. DM, we are not that bored or stupid, thank you very much. LOL!!!!

I don't get why the Kardashians are so hated. Maybe it's jealousy of their success?
